

Good Evening everyone,

I hope you are all enjoying the show.

You are all right about one thing. We are going to be talking more. Apparently the high road, and not leaking things, and respecting people does not get you anything in Italy.

Stories that change from Amanda? she was interrogated, and hit, and threatened and by the end of it, they were basically telling her to write things down, and she did it. It took her a full 2 weeks to come to her senses after the ordeal they put her through. She was mentally screwed with. Tortured. Physically and mentally.

So, ask me and if I know, I will tell you. I am done with Amanda being accused of a crime she had no part of and I am done keeping quiet.
