

A woman with dark hair, wearing a white and black striped shirt, is shown in profile from the chest up. She is looking towards a building with a window that has white shutters. The scene is at night, with a street lamp visible in the background and a white car parked on the street. The foreground is mostly dark, suggesting the presence of another person or object very close to the camera.

© CBS